

Kevin Watts

Reply to Labour Party LGBT Network questions:

1. Do you accept that trans women are women, trans men are men, and non-binary people are non-binary - and will you commit to respecting trans people as their self-declared gender – if so, how will you integrate this approach to tackle the culture of entrenched transphobia, from the grassroots membership up to the leadership?
2. Will you defend the current Labour Party policy and principle of inclusion of Transgender women on All Women Shortlists?

1. "Good morning, as I am LGBT, as a gay disabled activist I agree with all your points. I will not only be a voice for disabled members/people but for the whole of the LGBTQ community as well. I hope that has answered your questions."

Kevin Watts did not reply to Labour Women's Declaration Working Group questions.